FIXED PRICE LIST

JUNE/JULY 1990 ISSUE 0028

P.O. BOX 2967
EDMOND, OKLAHOMA 73083
(405) 341-2213

The last several months have been extremely [illegible] time since I have been able to get a list out. Thank you for your patience while this present list was being prepared. I've just returned from the EAC convention in Orlando and the [illegible] convention. I bought many coins, most of which are offered here. The new COR is out and again prices have risen across the board. In some cases a bit too high perhaps...more on this in the comments section. I have tried to hold prices down but it is becoming more and more difficult finding nice material.

In this list look for a nice 1809 C-1 VG. The first decent example of this rarity I've had in some time. A couple nice collectible 93 Chain Cents as well as a 1793 Liberty Cap. Condition census examples of 1797 S-143 and 1798 S-176. Among middle dates a nice group of high condition 1822s and an outstanding group of 1829s by variety. Also a beautiful borderline mint state 1824 N-2. Many high grade and condition census Late dates are also offered including a nice group of scarce 1847s.

My next convention will be the 1990 ANA in Seattle August 21-26.

Thanks

Chris

WE OFFER THE FOLLOWING TERMS OF SALE

1. All Coins GUARANTEED Genuine - This is a LIFETIME Guarantee!
2. All attributions are guaranteed correct - also LIFETIME Guarantee!
3. The IDENTIFIED POPULATION estimates (RARITY) of varieties change as more pieces of Copper are attributed, and it is IMPOSSIBLE to have an ACCURATE rating! But, we do use the most up-to-date data available as reflected in "Copper Quotes by Robinson". (COR)
4. STRICT ANA & EAC guidelines are used in grading, which consist of assigning a grade based on the state of preservation/wear of the piece. We then describe the condition of the coin so that you will have as good an idea as possible of what the coin looks like without actually being able to see it in person. It is our intent that there be NO SURPRISES when you receive the coin. Virtually all old Copper has accumulated some marks in their lifetime since leaving the Die/Mint - It is our intent to describe any such marks of significance. We now introduce a new term - VALUE GRADING!!

   Sharpness Grade is far easier to describe in consistent terms, and where there may be circulation defects such as porosity, gouges, rim dinges/nicks/bruises, corrosion and other such detractions, arriving at a NET GRADE is certainly subjective at best. The grade that we have assigned on the first line describing each coin is intended to represent this NET GRADE/VALUE GRADE.

   If the Second Line does NOT start with a Sharpness grade, then it is our opinion that the NET GRADE of the coin is the SAME AS the SHARPNESS GRADE of the coin, and that there are NO SIGNIFICANT defects worth mentioning. Perhaps NOT PERFECTION, but whatever marks or other elements that may be present, do not deduct from the over-all appearance/grade of the coin, and are mentioned for accuracy.
5. A Full 30 DAY return privilege is allowed for any or no reason. Our business is based upon attracting repeat customers, and it does none of us any good for you to keep a coin with which you are not completely satisfied. The 30 day period is an approval period, and we welcome any of our customers to show their purchases from us to any other EXPERIENCED EAC member for another opinion. Sales are final after the 30 day period, but we will certainly consider extensions in this time limit upon any reasonable request.
6. All coins are guaranteed to meet ANACS certification for grading! Any coin graded lower by ANACS can be returned within 120 days for immediate refund of the full purchase price plus all ANACS certification service fees.
7. All orders are sent postpaid.
8. Approval service is available to established clients with 7 day terms.

We are always interested in buying Early Copper & Type Coins! If you have coins to sell, we would be happy to have you contact us. We are willing to PAY STRONG PRICES for NICE coins. We will also accept coins on a consignment basis at a reasonable commission. Please feel free to contact either of us with ANY questions that you may have.

COMMENTS

The valuation of Early Copper has been a topic for heated discussion for more than a hundred years now. While the discussion has perhaps become more focused, it seems no closer to completion. Much new research and more widely distributed information would seem to make for easier consensus. Alas it's not the case. The new Copper Quotes by Robinson came out just prior to EAC this year. The prices were for the most part higher across the board. And of course they should be higher in most cases. Nice Copper is just plain harder to find and costs more when you find it than a year ago. What surprises me is how quickly and easily people are persuaded to throw away the old CQR and whole heartedly take up the new as gospel. CQR is just one man's opinion. In most cases it is a carefully thought out, well researched opinion. In some cases it may be an opinion acquired at some cost, financial, emotional or both. It may be an opinion based on hard facts, real transactions and auction results. Still it is just one man's opinion.

Copper prices have skyrocketed over the past several years. And it is a curious phenomena. Because collectors universally dislike any rise in values. Unlike investors, collectors hate to see the items they collect rise in value. And thus any rise in value is accomplished despite the protestations of those who own and control most of the early copper. So how can this happen? Some have blamed CQR calling it a "self fulfilling prophecy".If so seldom since Jeremiah has there been a prophet so universally ignored. CQR is generally used not as the reasonable guideline it was intended to be but as a jumping off point. As a result buyers,especially in auctions, drive the prices up to crazy levels. After a major auction CQR levels can look pretty silly.

Dealers have their hand in this also of course. A coin dealer is going to get the maximum price he can for his inventory. Let's face it, the average coin dealer is just like any other businessman, only more so. There are some constraints however. The dealer has to deal with the same group of collectors over and over. He can't gouge prices and expect to win loyal clients. At the same time he can't give away something he has no hope of replacing at the same level. The last few years again and again I find myself paying more for the same item than I sold it for six months earlier. If you see dealers at auctions buying coins it is because nice coins are hard to find. If I don't have new, interesting and desirable material on my lists soon you stop looking through them. You stop looking through and ordering and I go out of business. Dealers have no interest in seeing the prices rise so high it drives people to collecting match book covers. Believe me it is much harder to sell one five thousand dollar coin than it is to sell ten five hundred dollar coins, or fifty hundred dollar coins. Still I have to buy what my clients want. I can say again and again that a nice F15 1803 Draped Bust Cent is a steal at $150 (as I have been saying for the past two years).Still if no one will buy the 1803 Cent I will have to handle what people want to buy.

Of course I have no solutions. Notice the title "comments" at the top of the page;I'm afraid that's all I have to offer. One last observation though. I have always tried to stress the need to buy "quality" coins. This is a virtue that perhaps has been taken too far. Quality copper seems to be taken to mean more and more "flawless mint state, the best of the best, unimprovable, CC 1." I'm sure there is a word other than idolatry that expresses what I mean, but that is the word that comes to mind. When the reason for owning a coin becomes only the need to be "the owner" of it and is no longer the enjoyment of the coin itself,then we have let it become an idol. It has begun to own us. A nice VG 1797 Cent can be a quality coin. It can be every bit as desirable, and is probably more scarce than a mint red MS66 53 N-25. And what is more important it can give the owner every bit as much enjoyment. That's the whole point isn't it?
